MEGUIAR'S HISTORY

The family business that began over a century ago making furniture polish one bottle at a time in the garage of founder Frank Meguiar, Jr. now spans three generations of Meguiar's and 92 countries. Meguiar's, Inc. has become the world's most respected manufacturer of cleaners, polishes, waxes, conditioners and protectants for every conceivable surface.

When the mass production of fiberglass boats first began in the 1950's, the PVA Release Agent being used created dull finished parts. Meguiar's products were then applied to create the high gloss finishes that customers demanded. This led Malcolm Meguiar, representing the second generation of Meguiar's, to change the FRP industry forever by creating a Mold Release Wax that would produce high gloss parts directly from the mold. It was the industry's first Mold Release Wax and, after 50 years, M-8 continues to be the top selling Mold Release Wax in the world.

Working closely with the fiberglass boat builders from the very beginning, and being responsible for the original high gloss finishes on fiberglass boats around the world, led to the consumer demand for Meguiar's products. Boat owners were looking for products they could genuinely trust to restore and protect that original high gloss finish, even under the most adverse circumstances that boats experience.

The extraordinary performance of those first consumer products, and the enthusiasm they generated, created an ever increasing appetite for additional products from Meguiar's that would perform at the same level of excellence on every type of surface found in the marine industry. The comprehensive line of high performance products found in this catalog represents the ultimate response to that demand.

In 1923, Meguiar's was truly a family business with everyone helping to make products out in the garage. During the day, Frank Meguiar, Jr. would demonstrate and sell the product made the night before.

The family business grew out of the garage and into the manufacturing plant shown above in 1936.

SURFACE CARE GUIDE

5 STEPS TO FIBERGLASS GEL COAT SURFACE CARE

(STEP 1) • WASH

Frequent washing is a vital step in keeping your finish in premium condition. Washing removes loose contaminants from the surface. If allowed to remain, these contaminants could eventually bond to or etch the surface. Avoid using dishwashing detergents or other household cleaners, as these will strip off your wax protection. All of Meguiar's washes are pH balanced and biodegradable to gently clean while preserving your wax.

(STEP 2) • CLEAN

While washing removes loose contaminants from the surface, cleaning or surface prep is intended to remove bonded surface contamination and surface defects. Surface defects can be divide into two groups: above-surface contaminants, and below-surface defects. Above-surface contaminants include tree sap mist, environmental fallout, bugs, spider droppings, and overspray. Below-surface defects include scratches, swirls, oxidation, water spot etching, etc.

(STEP 3) • POLISH

Now that the gel coat surface is smooth as glass and free of defects, polishing restores a deep glossy finish by conditioning the gel coat, and restoring its natural oils. Simply put, polishing is the creation of brilliant, high gloss.

(STEP 4) • PROTECTION

The only way to keep your finish looking great for long periods of time is to apply a protective coating to preserve the surface. Meguiar's defines protection as preservation of brilliant high gloss. Meguiar's protection formulas provide a durable protective layer that seals in the deep shine created in the polishing step and keeps environmental elements from coming in direct contact with the surface.

(STEP 5) • MAINTENANCE

Frequent surface care is easy surface care. The more frequently you care for your boat or RV, the easier the detailing process. Maintenance is the frequent removal of contaminants before they have a chance to bond to the surface or etch it. This step is designed to help you safely remove contaminants without stripping your wax protection, leaving your boat or RV looking as though it has just been detailed everyday.
